RYCE HOUR INDEFINITE

Cincinnati Labor to Pay Respects Upon Arrival

T. LOUIS—(By Associated Press)—The train bearing the body of Samuel Gompers to Washington where it will lie in state until burial Wednesday at New York, paused here from 7:30 a. m. until noon today after a journey marked by pourings of those who wished to pay their respects at all stations from San Antonio, Tex., to the president of the American Federation of Labor, Saturday.

The schedule from St. Louis set for the funeral train to leave Vincennes, Ind., at 3:50 p. m. this afternoon; Cincinnati at 10:48 p. m.; Parkersburg, Va., will be reached at 3:40 a. m. tomorrow morning; Cum-mington, Md., at 10:50 a. m.; arrival at Washington scheduled for 2:45 p. m.

At night the train kept to schedule fairly well, although it lost a little time when it stopped at stations for thousands of people to file past the great covered bronze casket. The tributes which covered the casket when the train left San Antonio were added by the train load as the train rolled on.

At a number of towns along the route those who wished to pay their respects to the labor leader had to be turned away because the train could wait long enough. At McAllen, Tex., the train had to stop again to put off some of the vast concourse gathered there as it pulled into the Union station here. The coffin was taken from its silk-clothed casket and transferred to another casket on a coach attached to the train. This train is due to leave at 12:05 p. m.

At time and exact place for the final rites for Gompers had not been definitely decided by the executive committee aboard the train. The possibility of postponing the funeral to Wednesday evening was being considered. Thursday morning in New York, the train had to stop again to put off some of the vast concourse gathered there as it pulled into the Union station here. The coffin was taken from its silk-clothed casket and transferred to another casket on a coach attached to the train. This train is due to leave at 12:05 p. m.

CONGRESS PAUSES IN RESPECT TO WILSON

Oration Given by President of Alma Mater

PROGRAM SIMPLE ONE

Dignitaries of Nation Join in Paying Tribute

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Congress paused in its round of activity today to render honor to the memory of Woodrow Wilson. The chamber of the house of representatives was the setting for the memorial services, with Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, president of his alma mater, the University of Virginia, pronouncing from the rostrum where the late president revived the Washingtonian custom of delivering in person his eulogy of his life and achievements.

Dignitaries of state, political personages of past and present, close friends of the late chief executive and invited guests made up the gathering for which all space on the floor and galleries had been reserved. A vast audience too, had been remembered in arrangements for radio-casting the ceremony thru a wide chain of stations.

COOLIDGE PRESENT

President Coolidge and his cabinet, supreme court justices, the representatives of foreign governments, governors of states, members of the Wilson cabinet and high officers of the army and navy were among those joining with members of the senate and house to commemorate the man who sleeps beneath the towering cathedral spire within distant view of the nation's capital.

The program of the ceremony was a simple one. Early in the great white chapel gave evidence that it was a day apart. Its halls were hushed and the machinery of legislation was stilled. During the morning only members and those having urgent business within were admitted. Half past ten was the time set for the opening of the doors leading to the chamber to admit those accorded the privilege of a seat within the chamber.

Both the senate and house were called to convene a little before the noon hour, the time of the ceremony, the members of the senate after prayer recessing to the chamber of the house.

With Senator Cummins, as president pro tempore of the senate, occupying the speaker's chair, the ceremonial program opened with prayer offered by the Rev. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the house.

In introduction of Dr. Alderman by the presiding officer and his address in eulogy of the late president followed, with the benediction by the Rev. J. J. Muir, chaplain of the senate, closing the program.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Woodrow Wilson sought to give the twentieth century a faith to inspire it and to justify the sacrifice of millions of lives in the great war and if there was failure it was humanly failure. "To make him the one undaunted advocate of those hopes, the scapegoat of a world collapse," Dr. Alderman said, "is to visit upon him injustice so cruel that it must perish of its own reason."

Speaking in the place where Wilson delivered the address that carried his country into the world conflict, the University of Virginia president declared he could not envisage Wilson as a failure as he came back from the Paris peace conference bearing the covenant of the League of Nations and the "imperfect treaty of Versailles."

"I envisage him rather as a victor and conqueror as he returned to America," he said, "untouched by sickness or fear, untroubled by cowardice or moral doubt, unsundered by devotion and offering to his country leadership in the broadest and most heroic cause in all the story of human struggle for a better life."

Dr. Alderman said it was not for him to undertake the task of apportioning "with nice justice the responsibility for the caudron of heat and sweltering venom of deadlock and indecision of partisanship and passion in which for weary months this largest question of modern times boiled and bubbled."

"Other ages will make that solemn appraisal," he added, "I may be permitted the reflection that something less of malice in the hearts of our enemies and something more of compromise in his own heart and something more of political genius and firm pur-

Posse Scours Swamp Looking For Fugitive

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. — (By Associated Press) — Argumented by a company of the Maryland national guard, a posse of more than 300 men armed with pistols and shotguns, was searching today for Harry Merrill, negro, who Saturday shot and killed the warden of the county jail and wounded a deputy sheriff attempting to arrest him.

The negro was believed to be hiding in the swamp near the scene of the shooting. Blood hounds led the posse to the swamp, but lost the scent last night after two shots had been fired at them, supposedly by the fugitive. With pickets guarding the edge of the swamp, members of the posse tramped the marsh all night, but failed to find a trace of the negro. The fugitive was known to be a crack shot with either pistol or rifle and the searchers therefore carried no lights. Funeral services for Warden Lewis H. Dryden will be held today. Deputy Sheriff Orlie Carey is in a critical condition.

FREIGHTER BELIEVED TO HAVE SUNK

STORM SWEEPS SUPERIOR

Seventy-mile Gale Lashes
Lake During Day

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. — (By United Press) — Beaches along Lake Superior were being combed today for bits of wreckage and bodies from a freighter believed to have sunk with a crew of 30 men and officers off Eagle Harbor, Mich., in a gale Sunday.

Wooden hatches, spars, rigging and other bits of wreckage that were carried ashore on lashing waves last night were the first indication that a ship had gone down. None carried any markings to indicate the name of the ship. The amount of wreckage indicated the boat foundered and probably carried a crew of approximately 30 men and officers, coast guards said.

All the fury of the 76-mile gale was spent today. Small craft that was reported missing in the storm of Sunday was still unaccounted for today. Fear was expressed by watchers at the coast guard station here that some may have gone down in the gale although many were believed to have put in at isolated shelters along the lake.

LABOR SPEAKER HERE TUESDAY

Whiting Williams to Address
Foremen's Club at 4 p. m.

The largest assemblage of foremen ever to have gathered in Lima is expected to be present at the regular meeting of the Lima Foremen's club Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. to hear Whiting Williams, noted industrial expert of Cleveland, address.

Williams figured there was only one way to find out what the laboring man wanted, and what his problems were. He donated a pair of overalls in 1919 and became a journeyman laborer in the mines and factories of this and other countries, continually studying the things that were upmost in the mind and life of the worker. He did the laborer's work, lived his life, ate his food, endured his hunger and fatigue, associated with his friends and helped fight his enemies. His findings are said to have been sensationally interesting.

The Clevelander is in great demand as a speaker, particularly before industrial organizations, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, the Y. M. C. A., Foremen's clubs and schools and colleges.

Besides doing an immense amount of speaking, Williams finds time to write for such nationally-known magazines as Collier's and Scribner's. He also has written three books on the labor question.

The meeting Wednesday will be open to guests as well as members of the Foremen's club. Reservations must be made by Tuesday evening, according to Victor Bird, "Y" industrial secretary.

BURNING OF YACHT IS CHARGED TO INDIANA MAN

TOLEDO — (By United Press) — John H. Brady, Indianapolis, is held by police on a charge of inflicting a fire on the burning of a $125,000 yacht in the Toledo Yacht Club lagoon last June 27.

Stephenson, whose home is in Indianapolis, believes the fire was a result of his activities against a hooded order to which he once belonged in Indiana.

Brady came to Toledo voluntarily, according to John M. Manley, assistant state fire marshal here, the coming of Brady practically amounts to him giving himself up.

Stephen is expected here today.

WOMAN FIGHTS

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. — (By United Press) — The state today opens fire in an attempt to send Elsie Sweetin to the gallows for murdering her husband, Wilford Sweetin.

The state practically has concluded its case against Lawrence M. Hight, former Methodist pastor, who was indicted with Mrs. Sweetin.

As in the case of Hight, the principal evidence against Mrs. Sweetin is a confession. Mrs. Sweetin signed the confession while she was in jail and her attorneys plan to put up a stiff battle to prevent admission of the document as evidence.

JERWELRY STORE WINDOW SMASHED: CHURCH ROBBER

PREMONITION COMES TRUE

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — A premonition that he would be killed in an accident, four years ago prompted Patrolman August Arndt to apply for a transfer from the motorcycle corps.

For a while he was taken off his motor, but later the good of the service required that he return to his old job.

Last night Arndt was killed when his motorcycle skidded against a curb and crashed into a street car.

Fellow officers declared the accident in which Arndt was killed happened just as he had often said it would.

DEATH PENALTY DEFENDED

Warden Thomas Urges Capital
Punishment in State

WORK SHOPS ADVOCATED

Reformation of Criminals is Strongly Advocated

"Capital punishment is the right of the state and should be strictly enforced."

With these words Warden P. E. Thomas of Ohio state penitentiary made known his stand on the question of capital punishment in his address "Real Facts of Prison Reform" before the Lima Open Forum Sunday afternoon at Trinity, M. E. church.

Warden P. E. Thomas is heart and soul for capital punishment. During his stay at Ohio penitentiary he has seen 72 criminals suffer the extreme penalty for their crime, but he believes there should have been twice that number.

Thomas hit hard the case of Leopold and Loeb, the Chicago boy slayers, when he said "youth should be no excuse for crime."

"I would have sentenced them to hanging if I had been the judge on the case," the state penitentiary warden said.

Working up to his subject of prison reform, Warden Thomas said that it isn't the prisons that need reforming, but instead, the prisoners. "The average prison has the best of facilities and there is no need to make any radical changes in it. All prisons are operated with the idea of reforming the prisoner," Thomas asserted.

"The prison isn't a boarding school, but is a reformatory. It is up to a prison to change the wicked and unbalanced side of a man's character and make him fit to return to society if he is not a major criminal offense, which will make him serve a life sentence."

Idleness is the biggest hindrance for the reformation of criminals according to the state warden. For that reason he is doing his best to obtain a state appropriation for material and equipment to make brick and cement for use on the state highways.

Every seat in the Trinity church auditorium was filled and it was necessary to open the doors of the Sunday school department in order to seat the overflow crowd. Many were turned away.

T. P. Pearson, Y. M. C. A. general secretary, presided in the absence of Elmer McElroy, Open Forum chairman.

H. Clark, superintendent of the Lima State hospital, introduced the speaker.

Next number on the Forum schedule will be on Jan. 18 when the Hon. C. T. Marshall, chief justice of the state supreme court, will talk on "The Relation of the Citizen to the Law."

Valuable Watches and Diamonds Stolen

COLLECTION BOX OPENED

Tramp Breaks Into St. Rose is Captured

Two lone burglars, working separately, shattered a window of the Windsor Jewelry Co. at 12 W. Market-st and made off with diamonds and other jewelry worth nearly $2,000, and burglarized the St. Rose church building at McKibben and West-sts. and took $12 in cash from the collection strong box. Both robberies occurred early Sunday morning.

The church burglar, who gave his name as Lawrence Sandusky and his home as Batavia, N. Y., was arrested a few minutes after the robbery. He admitted his guilt when arraigned in criminal court Monday and was bound over to the grand jury under $250 bond.

Sandusky told police he came to town in a box car late Saturday night and broke into the church building in quest of a warm place to spend the night. He entered thru a cellar window and found the collection strong box, containing cash which he had been dropped into boxes upstairs.

He forced the box open and in a hill and silver fell out. He crawled out of the window into a pocket and stretched out on the floor for a few hours sleep. A caretaker found him two hours later when he came to start a fire. He was still slumbering peacefully when police arrived in response to a telephone call.

The jewelry store robbery was discovered by Patrolman H. Asher about 6 a. m. Sunday. H. Asher, police headquarters at 100 E. Main-st, one of the store officials, was notified.

A brick wrapped in a towel had been thrown thru the window. The towel and plumb cover in the display window damaged the sound of the breaking and falling glass.

Fifteen ladies' diamond rings worth from $25 to $125 each, as well as white gold men's watches and chains, worth $60 each, were taken. A number of more valuable watches were ignored. The store is completely covered by insurance, Asher said Monday.

At noon Monday, police, working with the aid of a Pinkerton detective who arrived in the city a few hours after the robbery, were without a tangible clue to work on.

According to police, the robbery occurred between 5 and 6 a. m. Officer Jesse Hargrove passed the store at 4 a. m. and Elmer Hurley, a merchant policeman, made his rounds on Market-st at an hour later.

LIONS LOST INQUIRY SHOWS

Annual Revenue Probe Reveals Loose Methods

UNIFORMITY IS LACKING

State on Underwood Bill up for Tuesday

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Chairman Couzens of the special select committee investigating the internal revenue bureau declared in a statement today that the committee had found "much looseness in the execution of the work" of the bureau, resulting in the apparent loss of millions of dollars of revenue to the government.

"In some of these cases," the chairman declared, "the department officials have admitted error and while the committee charges no dishonesty, it finds much looseness in the execution of the work."

Noting that a review had been made of the case involving alleged over-allowance of $600,000 in taxes to one company, Sen. Couzens said special investigators are now working on other cases which will be taken up by the committee. He indicated the public to send in suggestions for simplifying the provisions of the bureau as well as the statutes.

"This lack of uniformity," Senator Couzens declared, "worked great injustice to some taxpayers, and excessive reductions in taxes to others. The injustice arose because the evidence showed that many taxpayers paid taxes and others did not, but rather than the law being enforced, the law was evaded."

"The committee has been made aware that an effort will be made to collect the taxes which have been collected, and it should, fully ten times the cost of the committee's work, have been collected in one year."

The committee found other cases where claims were allowed for amortization on plants and equipment purchased before the war, and yet it was clearly provided by law that only amortization was to be allowed on war plants and equipment after we entered the war.

The committee also found that taxpayers received advantage over other taxpayers because of the "loopholes" in keeping the law. The cases that the committee have examined in this connection represent a loss to government, if the committee interpretation is correct, of many millions of dollars of revenue to government.

DEBROW HILL

The senate judiciary committee today in its action today in the Washington Herald editorial said that Sen. Underwood and his committee should have been more careful in their investigation of the case of Sen. Underwood and his committee. Plutarco Elias Calles, president of the republic, tried twice yesterday to cast his vote in the municipal election, but the officials at both booths where he appeared refused to accept his ballot because they were unable to find proof that the president had legally registered or possessed the franchise rights under the election laws.

"Oh, well, then I won't vote," the chief executive is quoted as having exclaimed after his second futile attempt.

WILSON MEMORY IS HONORED

pose in the hearts of those who kept the faith, and there might have been another world.

RADIANT SPIRIT

"It is commonly said that the historic name of Woodrow Wilson is wrapped up in the destiny of the covenant; that if it fails his rank will be merely that of one more radiant spirit whose reach exceeded his grasp, and if it succeeds his apotheosis in history is secure. I find the formula too high and automatic for the force and idea it presumes to envelop."

"Apocryphal and immortally airy words that fit our poor flesh; but surely the fame of Woodrow Wilson does not rest upon an instrument the orderly growth of which into final usefulness may so change its structure and modify its function as to cause it to become another and even better instrument."

"It depends upon the unquenchable idea, so greatly conceived and set forth that it must continue to grow into newer and finer form and his fame must grow with it in whatever bright renown it may attain."

"The world used to be full of people busy discerning, measuring and cataloging the faults of Woodrow Wilson. Dogmatist and hermit, rhetorician and pacifist, egocentric and inarticulate, dreamer and drifter were some of the middle-range charges of his more civil and restrained enemies. And he had his faults. Some of them were protective devices to conserve physical strength, and others lay buried deep in the impulses in his blood; but inhibitions born of pride and courage and high ambition are such as nations learn to love and to forgive and even to adore and cherish. Posterity is incensed about the minor faults of its heroes."

"His countrymen do not tattle about Washington's blaring profanity at Monmouth, but see his stately figure riding into the storm of battle beneath the tattered flag of a new nation he would fain carry into the world. They do not whisper about Lincoln's choice of companions or his taste in anecdotes and his policies. They realized on white marble walls the sacred poems which his literary genius has left to posterity, behold him in the night watches correcting his mistakes and using even humility as a sword with which to carve out the victory of his cause. And so it will be with Woodrow Wilson in the long perspective of the years."

AMBITION TO SERVE

"His ambition to serve his country was as intense as Cromwell's. It was not easy for him to forget or forgive. The more righteousness sometimes froze the more genial currents of his soul, but he was willing to die and did die to guarantee to humble men a fairer chance in a juster world and therefore the savage assaults of his enemies will shrivel into insignificance of Horace Greely's editorials against Lincoln's policies or the fulfills of the early century pamphleteers against Thomas Jefferson as iconoclast and anti-Christ and his mere detractors will themselves either attain a repellent fame as detractors of greatness or else they will pass out of memory."

RECORDER ASKS EXTRA FUNDS

$630 Needed for Clerk Hire, Commissioners Told

An application for an increase of $630 in the annual appropriation for office expenses was filed with the county commissioners Monday by Glen I. Wallace, county recorder.

Since the revaluation of city realty was started he says he has a score of persons daily who want lot locations and boundaries looked up.

The amount of business transacted has almost doubled in five years, the aggregate of fees paid in show.

Wallace predicted that in 1925 the real estate activity in Allen county automatically would increase his office from $1,000 to $2,000 more than the figures for the past year.

None of the increase sought will go to the recorder as his salary is fixed by the state law on the basis of population. Commissioners have taken no action on the request.

ELECTION CASE UP TO JURY

Judge F. H. Wolf to Pass on Contentions

OTTAWA — Decision as to whether the contested election case will reach common pleas court now is with Judge F. H. Wolf, of Washington.

Arguments on a motion to dismiss the case on the grounds that the contestants had not complied with the law was argued Monday morning by H. P. Eastman, representing William George, of Belmont, and Andrew Potts, of Jackson, from A. L. Belch, of Columbus, and C. Robinson, of Leipsic, are seeking to prevent the offices of probate judge and county commissioner.

Eastman, in the motion filed Saturday in common pleas court, set forth that the appeal was not perfect because it did not state the time and place of the hearing and before which justices of the peace the taking of depositions was to be held.

John T. DeFord, attorney, who filed the contested cases set forth in his arguments, this had no bearing on the case.

In the two petitions, which were identical, it was charged that persons in more than six Putnam county precincts voted under names not their own, that the election board in Jackson-tp was all of one political faith, that they closed the polls for an hour at noon and that voters in Lewis were intimidated because they were taken to the polls in a conveyance.

Judge Wolf said that a decision would be ready within a week.

Taking of depositions was to begin next Monday before Justices Thomas H. Rowser and McClung, of Leipsic, under the first procedure and before the filing of the motion, which it was necessary first to dispose of before the case could go to hearing.

KIWANIANS HEAR SCHOOL TALK

Marsh Foundation History is Speaker's Subject

Address on the Marsh Foundation School, at Van Wert, was given Monday noon at Hotel Royal by Dr. R. R. Reeder, superintendent of the school.

The Marsh Foundation School is now under construction and when finished will take in orphan children, first from Van Wert, then from adjacent counties and then from the entire northwest.

Object of the school, which he said is not an orphan asylum, is to train orphan boys and girls in practical work, such as farming, stock-raising, dairying, cooking, housekeeping and similar subjects. The school will endeavor to instill in each child these five principles—love, law, leisure, letters and labor, he said.

The school was founded upon the bequest of George H. Marsh, wealthy farmer of Van Wert, who died several years ago. His farm, totalling 1,400 acres, has been turned over entirely for school buildings and experiment plots for underprivileged children.

Dying Father Forgives Son After Stabbing

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Bruce A. Shaw, wealthy Oak Park inventor and manufacturer, was stabbed fatally yesterday by his son, George, 23, who used a German sabre brought back from French battlefields. Shaw died at midnight, pleading that his son be executed.

"George is crazy," a shell-shocked war victim, he told the police. "My boy still is suffering from his wounds and has been in hospitals most of the time since the war."

Mrs. Marie Ayres, the daughter, said George Shaw created a disturbance in her bedroom after the two had returned from a road-house wine party. His father, she said, attempted to quiet him and finding his son resentful, started to use force.

George picked up a sabre and thrust the blade into his father's chest," she told police.

With Mrs. Ayres was a girl companion who had attended the party. Mrs. Ayres said they had been drinking and that she and her brother had quarreled, each returning home separately from the resort.

Young Shaw is a veteran of the marine corps and was gassed and wounded in the battle of St. Mihiel.

GIRL HELD IN CHECK CASE

Police Trap Accused Check Uttering Queen

WAPAKONETA — (Special)— Mildred Deakin, 25, alias Mrs. William Parmenter, accused bad check queen said to be wanted in a number of Ohio cities, was arrested here by local authorities and is confined in jail on a charge of uttering worthless checks.

Police assert she passed a check of $16.50 on a local meat market and attempted to pass a second check in a confectionary. The one check was payable to Paul Menthe and signed L. G. Reame, which name was stamped and written on the check.

Inquiries made by police indicate that a girl answering the description of the one held is wanted in Lima, Delphos, Sidney, Van Wert and other Ohio cities.

CHICAGO—Police were asked to rescue a "crying baby" from a sewer opening. Instead of a child they found an Irish setter and six puppies.

HOUSE BURNED; TOLL IS $1,500

Flames in Roof Spread While Family Sit Below

While Maurice A. Snider, of 1015 W. Wayne-st., sat in his parlor conversing with his family about 10 a. m. Sunday, flames were eating their way thru the roof and into several rooms on the top floor of his home.

Before the flames, which were discovered by neighbors, were subdued, the upper center part of the residence was nearly a total wreck. Damage estimated at $1,500 was caused, two-thirds of which was to the building alone.

Neighbors sent in the alarm, then rushed into the Snider home and informed the family that the roof was in flames.

The exact origin of the fire is unknown, but fire officials expressed an opinion that it was caused by sparks from a defective flue.

COMFORT FOUND IN VOTE

English Labor Not Downcast Over Election

ADD'S MILLION BALLOTS

No Indications of Reforms in Near Future

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — Labor is far from down-hearted over the result of the recent election. Altho it lost nearly 50 seats, the party gained more than 1,000,000 new voters, demonstrating that the Socialist movement in British politics is not only alive and kicking but growing lustily as well.

After all, the sweeping change in party strength in the House of Commons, which the election brought about, was due greatly to what Lloyd George and others have regarded as unjust and undemocratic anomalies in the British electoral system. In three-sided contests the existing system permits the election of a candidate by a minority of the voters, as the high man of the three wins.

A year ago the luck of the three-party fighting went to Labor and against the Conservatives. This time the reverse happened. The Conservatives polled less than half of the votes cast by the populace, but won more than two-thirds of the seats. For every seven votes that Conservative Labor got five. Yet more than 400 Conservative candidates were elected. While Labor won less than 160 seats. The Liberal strength shrunk at the polls from more than 4,000,000 to less than 3,000,000, and in the House this middle party withered to less than one member.

In consequence of the strange harvest that sprung from the votes of the nation, the advocates of electoral reform are pushing pens and using vocal chords industriously. The movement for introducing proportional representation has taken on fresh vigor. The Proportional Representation Society has pointed out that had the system it supports been in use the Tories would have only three-fourths of their present parliamentary members; Labor would hold more than 200 seats instead of 158, and the Liberals would have 100 members instead of a mere omnibus load of less than 40.

There are no indications, however, that electoral reforms are a high priority. The Conservatives are satisfied and it would hardly be human nature for them to push thru reforms that would weaken their parliamentary position.

Charity In Lima

There is enough charity in Lima to go around this year if it is properly distributed. As the Christmas season approaches, it has become evident that a great deal of this work must be done if everyone is to have a happy Yule season.

There are some who have been unfortunate. That should not deny them and their children the pleasure of some Christmas cheer. There are many who have been fortunate and the spirit of giving should include this kind of gifts first.

An organization, headed by the Christmas Mother, has been set up to eliminate duplication in giving and endeavor to see that everyone gets his share of the charity dispensed. It is a clearing house for names. Any who desire to give should get in touch with the Christmas Mother headquarters. It is only fair that this be done to prevent some family getting two or three baskets or batches of gifts and some other none. If you are giving, co-operate in this matter.

Traffic Deaths

Traffic accidents kill 22,600 persons a year and injure 678,000, according to a report just made to Secretary Hoover.

During the last year Lima and Allen-co have contributed too many deaths and injuries to the ever growing list. Sooner or later all auto drivers will have to be examined for mentality, eyesight, hearing and power of decision before receiving licenses to drive cars.

Let's start the new year with a decision to reduce the number of traffic accidents in this community in 1925. If we can do that, we shall have accomplished a great deal.

Wasting Coal

Did you ever stop to think how much of the heat value of your coal goes up the chimney? You probably know that a great deal of it is wasted as a result of the comparatively crude devices in which we burn our coal.

It should be good news to those who have been struggling with coal bills to know that an electric concern in Philadelphia has just installed equipment which is expected to set a record by converting 93 per cent of the heat units of its coal into steam. This has already been done experimentally in New York.

Too much of our coal is wasted. With consumption at the present high mark and cost, due considerably to high transportation charged, higher than ever before in peace times, it behooves us to get more out of the fuel we burn.

Many homes are heated with what amount to nothing less than mere coal wasters. At the best, furnaces and boilers get only a small per centage of the actual heat value of the coal into the rooms where heat is required. There should be a general shakeup in heating devices, looking toward more efficiency in combustion and saving of heat units of the coal we consume.

Grinder Static

"Grinder static," which bothers radio fans so much, originates chiefly in a district above the western part of the Gulf of Mexico, claims C. W. Horn, head radio expert at KDKA. The disturbance, which spreads all over the continent, is worst during the gulf rainy season.

Some observers believe that static eventually will be so thoroughly understood that it will help decidedly to forecast weather. Nothing is useless—not even static.

Decorate The Trees

The Christmas tree idea along Lima streets has worked out well so far. But much remains to be done to make this enterprise the success it should be since it has been started.

The response of individuals in the downtown section was fine. Nearly everyone bought the trees to be placed in sockets in the curb intended for flags, the uniform street decoration adopted here. But the responsibility did not end with the purchase of the trees. Everyone should deem it his duty to see that his trees are decorated. Some already have done this. Others have merely placed the trees in the sockets and apparently have forgotten them.

Let's pull together and decorate the trees. Since we have them, why not make the streets glittering thoroughfares that will lend to the cheer of the season?

Chemistry

A hundred useful products are derived from sweet potatoes by Dr. George W. Carver, negro professor at Tuskegee Institute. He is a wizard at agricultural chemistry.

From the sweet potato he produces synthetic rubber, coffee, candy, ink, shoe blacking, dyes, paint, etc.

Chemistry is one of the most profitable fields open to the coming generation. If you have a son in doubt as to his career, have him investigate industrial and agricultural chemistry.

Rail Spending

The railroads will spend 1100 million dollars in 1925 for new equipment and improvements, in addition to the 2138 millions authorized during the last two years.

This gigantic program will help general prosperity. It is typical of plans being made for next year in many leading industries. You can safely bank on 1925 being a boom year.

The majority will simply spend more. A minority will save—and later, sit at the top of the ladder.

In a lifetime you don't encounter many years when it's easy to save and get ahead.

Government bonds are being sold to raise three or four billions, indicating Uncle Sam may buy some Christmas presents.

French don't want to pay us anything for 10 years. The French, it seems, think Uncle Sam is Santa Claus.

Silent airplanes are not the greatest threat of the next war. The thought that the Red Cross may issue crossword puzzles scares us.

It's funny how some respected citizens regard "Please Remit" on an overdue bill as nothing short of blackmail.

The carol, "Silent Night, Holy Night," is 100 years old this Christmas, which should be celebrated.

Steamboat load of autos sank in Lake Erie. All the crew and maybe a few pedestrians were saved.

The postoffice lost almost forty million in 1923, mostly on second and third class. Items below first class never pass.

VARIATIONS OF VARIOLA

I call it variola not just to be pedantic and show how much I know but because variola is the right name for it. And it isn't a kind of radio receiver. It is a properly divided disease which too many people insist on having.

A disease which kills thousands each year, sadly maims or marks other thousands who are stricken but not killed, and with the irony of fate picks for attack those members of the community who are uninformed or misinformed.

The prevention of variola is a matter of personal volition. Each individual must will for himself whether he desires protection against variola. The preventability of the disease varies directly with the intelligence of the community.

Perhaps we should explain before we go any further that the common or vulgar name for variola is "smallpox." But this name is objectionable for several reasons. One reason is that it connotes, in the mind of the uninformed or misinformed layman, something foul or vicious, a misconception which is thoroughly exploited by those who seek to profit upon credulity.

Vaccination is the protection which every individual may have against smallpox. Successful vaccination means inoculation with variola, which is a comparatively mild disease, in all probability (nobody knows definitely) a form of variola which has been modified by passing thru the calf. It is we are to be consistent we should call variola "cow pox"—but we don't and neither should we call variola "smallpox." Vaccination is inoculation with a very mild disease which confers sufficient immunity to protect against an attack of the severe form of the disease. Vaccination is virtually variolation but with the curve taken off by our friend the cow.

Variola, I say, seems to select the uninformed and the misinformed as victims. Every outbreak, every epidemic of this disease starts among the ignorant population. Either the subjects stricken with variola didn't know of the importance of being vaccinated or they have been misinformed and led to believe vaccination was unnecessary or even dangerous.

Vaccination does not confer absolute immunity, but only relative immunity. Indeed, there is no such thing as absolute immunity against any known disease. Even the goat sometimes has tuberculosis, the ordinarily endowed with a high degree of immunity against that common taint of domestic cattle and civilized men. There is no definite duration of the immunity conferred by vaccination, the probably vaccination in infancy or early childhood does give some immunity for a lifetime, if not sufficient to protect the individual against overwhelming infection after the lapse of many years. Ordinarily one vaccination is sufficient for life; but in the presence of an epidemic the wise course for all who have been vaccinated in infancy or early childhood is to give it a try once more—if immunity is still active the vaccination will not "take" and in any event no harm is done.

Only the unvaccinated need worry about the risk of infection in time of an epidemic of variola. If vaccination were universal, voluntary or compulsory, these outbreaks of variola would not occur and an enormous saving in lives and money would be effected for the country.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Arteriosclerosis
What is hardening of the arteries? What are the symptoms? Is it fatal?

(T. J. G.)
Answer—The change which occurs in the walls of the arteries with advanced age normally but comparatively early in life in abnormal circumstances consisting of gradual replacement of the muscular and elastic tissues of the artery wall with fibrous or scar tissue which is hard and inelastic. In the form which occurs in comparatively young individuals the common causes are chronic intoxication or poisoning by alcohol, lead, tobacco, chronic hyperuricemia from overeating and insufficient daily exercise, chronic irritation by abnormal metabolic products in diabetes. Bright's disease, probably chronic toxemia from hidden foci of infection in some cases. The symptoms are best described by the patient who has them. Arteriosclerosis is as fatal as "old age." Of course a man of 25 with the arteries of a man 60 has no great expectation.

A THOUGHT

As one whom his mother comforted, so will I comfort you.—Isa. 66:13.

What can the Creator see with greater pleasure than a happy creature?—Lessing.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SIGNS

When toyshops fill their windows full
With trains of cars and teddy bears,
And things the children love to pull
At which the window wisher stares;
When as I hurry on my way
I see the holly wreaths appear,
And catch a glimpse of sear and glare,
I know that Christmas day draws near.

When I behold at dinner-time
A certain youngster's shining face
Which usually is, flecked with grime,
With each particular hair in place
And note him sitting in his chair
Ere as any cavalier,
Eating his food with utmost care,
I know that Christmas day draws near.

When night time finds my sleepers out,
My book and ash tray handy by,
When little faces cease to pout
I never have to ask them why;
When off to bed at once they go
Without one manufactured tear,
And each one says: "I love you so!"
I know that Christmas day draws near.

And when the mother smiles at me
And vaguely mentions various things,
An ermine coat she chanced to see,
Or ropes of pearls, or diamond rings,
And stops to stroke my ruffled hair,
And casually calls me: "Dear,"
I know without a calendar
Another Christmas day draws near.

YELLOW CAB

"First In Everything"

Carries Extra Passengers Free

WE are confident that Yellow Cab's abolishment of extra fares for extra passengers is bringing about another revolution in the cab industry. Already we have noticed the presence of many new riders---who never rode before or used some other means of transportation.

This is a natural, logical outcome of a rate that is almost absurdly low. It is absurdly low because it is offered by what is locally known to be the best cab service in Lima---the ONE company above all which realizes the great value to the public of moral organized responsibility.
